

JID Board of Directors CALL FOR DIRECTOR

The JID Board of Directors (BoD) seeks one individual to join the Board in the role of Director. The term will run from May 2026 to April 2028. Duties of a Director are outlined below. The JID Board (directors, editors, others) meets several times a year per business needs, with longer bi-annual meetings in Summer and during the Spring IDEC Conference. All work is considered “service” (volunteer-unpaid).

Interested applicants should send a current CV and a one to two-paragraph statement of interest to Alison Snyder, Chair, JID Board, asn timer@pratt.edu by April 30, 2026

An invitation to be interviewed on Zoom, may follow. Please address any questions to the Chair.

Appointment and Term of Service

Qualifications:

- Advanced degree in Interior Design or closely related design fields
- Record of publication in the Journal of Interior Design and/or other peer-reviewed journals
- Commitment to the advancement of interior design’s body of knowledge
- A member in good standing of IDEC, and a record of participation in IDEC

Term: 2 or 3 years depending on current Board needs (may serve additional terms)

Appointment: Appointed by the JID Board Chair and ratified by the IDEC BoD

Responsibilities and Duties

- Supports the Mission* and Aims & Scope of the Journal and of IDEC, and are directed by its goals
- Attends all JID Board meetings and/or zoom conference calls
- Contributes to the Mission and Strategic Plan of the JID.
- Participates in the marketing and strategic positioning of the JID
- Represents the interests of the JID at conferences, and academic and professional events (as related/appropriate)
- At the discretion of the Chair, Directors, shall be assigned specific duties and responsibilities in response to goals and objectives of the current Board
- Facilitates presence in IDEC publications and industry newsletters, other related events, as requested by the Chair (in consultation)
- Supports the editors on focused activities as identified by the Board
- May serve as recording secretary for Board meetings as requested by the Chair
- Serves on an ad hoc or as a committee head for activities of interest to the JID Board

Mission: The Journal of Interior Design is a leading scholarly, peer reviewed, international publication which advances theory, research, education and the practice of interior design.

*Aims & Scope: The Journal of Interior Design is a scholarly, refereed publication dedicated to a pluralistic exploration of the interior environment. The Journal seeks to move the discipline forward by welcoming scholarly inquiry from diverse and interdisciplinary approaches, perspectives, and methods that actively explore and analyze the evolving definition of the interior. The Journal’s publications investigate the interior relative to design, human perception, behavior, and experience, at all scales and for all conditions. Scholarship published in the Journal shapes, informs, and defines interior design education, practice, research, criticism, and theory.