

Rubric for Scholarship of Design Research (SODR) Presentation

	0 Cannot be scored	1 Poor/ Definitely Not Accept	2 Below Average/ Not Accepted	3 Average/ Potential Non- Acceptance	4 Above Average/ Accept	5 Excellent/ Clear Accept
Relevance to Interior Design Research	No relevance, the topic is not stated	The topic is incomplete/inadequate, poorly articulated	Elemental topic identified, not clearly articulated	Topic fairly relevant to the discipline lacks some clarity	Topic relevant to the discipline, adequately articulated	Topic significantly relevant to the discipline, clearly articulated
Research Question	The problem/issue not stated	The problem/issue is incomplete/inadequate, poorly articulated	The problem/issue is elementally identified but is not clearly articulated	The problem/issue is identified but needs further refined clarity	The problem is articulated adequately	The problem/issue is clearly articulated
Method of Investigation	Method missing	Method incomplete/inappropriate, poorly articulated	Elemental method identified, not clearly articulated	The method is identified and appropriate, but lacks the needed clarity	An appropriate method is identified and articulated clearly	An appropriate method is identified and articulated clearly and ingenuity exhibited
Findings/ Outcomes	Findings/ outcomes are missing	Findings/ outcomes are incomplete/inadequate, and poorly articulated	Elemental levels of Findings/ outcomes are identified; however, not clearly articulated	Findings/ outcomes are identified but lack cohesiveness	Findings/ outcomes are articulated adequately	Findings/outcomes are clearly articulated toward a meaningful outcome
Significance of Appendix	There is no appendix	The appendix is inadequate and does not support the submitted submission	The appendix has an elemental contribution but does not fully support the submission	The appendix is appropriate and developing, but lacks a contributed meaning; further support is needed	The appendix is contextually adequate and supports the submission	The appendix is appropriate and contextually relevant, clearly contributes, and is highly engaged in supporting the submission
